

Course Management through MOOCs: Training Workshop Concludes at ICAR-NAARM

Date: 10-6-2022

A training workshop on “Course Management through MOOCs” was held at ICAR-NAARM, Hyderabad during June 6-10, 2022. This programme was offered based on the decision made in the Vice Chancellors’ meeting held at ICAR, New Delhi on April 12, 2022 to provide capacity building on developing online courses by the Agricultural Universities (AUs), in line with New Education Policy- 2020.

In his inaugural address in virtual mode by DDG (Education), Dr R C Agrawal has called upon the AUs to equip themselves with methodology to offer Online Courses so that the same can be shared across the entire ecosystem while enhancing the quality of the digital content. He expressed hope that the participants would go back and start course development for MOOCs besides sensitising others of their organisation. The workshop was attended by 35 participants representing 19 Agricultural Universities, 1 Central University and 1 Autonomous University. A good cross section of faculty from Agriculture, Veterinary Sciences, Fisheries and Horticultural Sciences attended the workshop. Various concepts on Digital Content Development Practices, Course Management through Open Source Learning Management System- based Platforms were imparted to the participants in a participatory and hands-on mode.
