

Administrative and financial management training concludes at ICAR-NAARM

29th November 2024, Hyderabad

A 5-day training programme on ‘Administrative and Financial Management’ was organized at ICAR-National Academy of Agricultural Research Management from November 25–29, 2024, for AAOs, AFAOs, and Assistants of ICAR Institutes.

In his inaugural address, Dr V. Ramasubramanian, I/c Joint Director, ICAR-NAARM, stated that the training at ICAR-NAARM would address the participants' needs in various key areas, including ARS Rules, Technical Service Rules, Administrative Service Rules, and other aspects of administration.

During the valedictory session, Dr Ch Srinivas Rao, Director of ICAR-NAARM, Hyderabad, emphasized the need for training more recently appointed administration and finance staff at ICAR-NAARM to enhance system efficiency and develop functional competency. He also highlighted the crucial role of administrative and finance personnel in any organization, noting that effective administration is essential for fostering a research environment, which is vital for addressing the challenges faced by Indian agriculture.

Shri Vampad Sharma, Director (Admn), ICAR, was also present during the programme.

The course was designed to facilitate mutual interaction and knowledge sharing while also enhancing administrative and financial skills, enabling participants to carry out their daily responsibilities more efficiently and effectively.

The training program broadly covered topics such as Service Matters—covering Scientific Services, Technical Services, Administrative Services, MTS, SSS, and Project Staff (RA, SRF), as well as YPs in ICAR. It also included sessions on Pay Fixation, Pension Rules (including the new pension scheme), Administrative Vigilance, TA/LTC Rules, Medical Rules, RTI, Procurement of Goods, Stress Management, and Team Building.

A total of 33 participants attended the programme the programme.
